Free meals offered to area children

BY JANET MCQUEEN
The Bay St. Louis public school system will feed your children breakfast and lunch this summer for the asking.

According to local program coordinator Judy Fletcher, few families have inquired about the free cafeteria meals.

The Summer Feeding Program is in its third year, offering hot lunches and breakfasts to children 1-18 years of age, regardless of income. Physically or mentally handicapped children enrolled in a school-related program are also eligible.

The federal government picks up the ticket for the meals under the Child Nutrition Program, which has been available since the late 1970's.

Two schools are feeding stations——Bay Junior High School and Waveland Elementary. Breakfast is offered from 8:30 a.m., with 75-100 meals planned at each location.

Lunch for 200 is served from noon until 1 p.m.

"We would particularly like for needy children to get hot meals that they would not normally enjoy," said Fletcher, food service director.

DEMONSTRATION

Mississippi K-9 will present a free demonstration at 10:30 a.m. Sunday on the grounds of Hotel Reed Nursing Home.

Martin DeSalvo, owner and head trainer, and his dogs will demonstrate skills ranging from basic obedience to protection training.

Beachfront Festival street closings told

The following streets will be closed on Sunday, June 4 from 9 a.m. until dusk for the Beachfront Festival.

• Beach Boulevard between State Street and the railroad tracks. Traffic from Our Lady of the Gulf Masses should exit to Union Street.

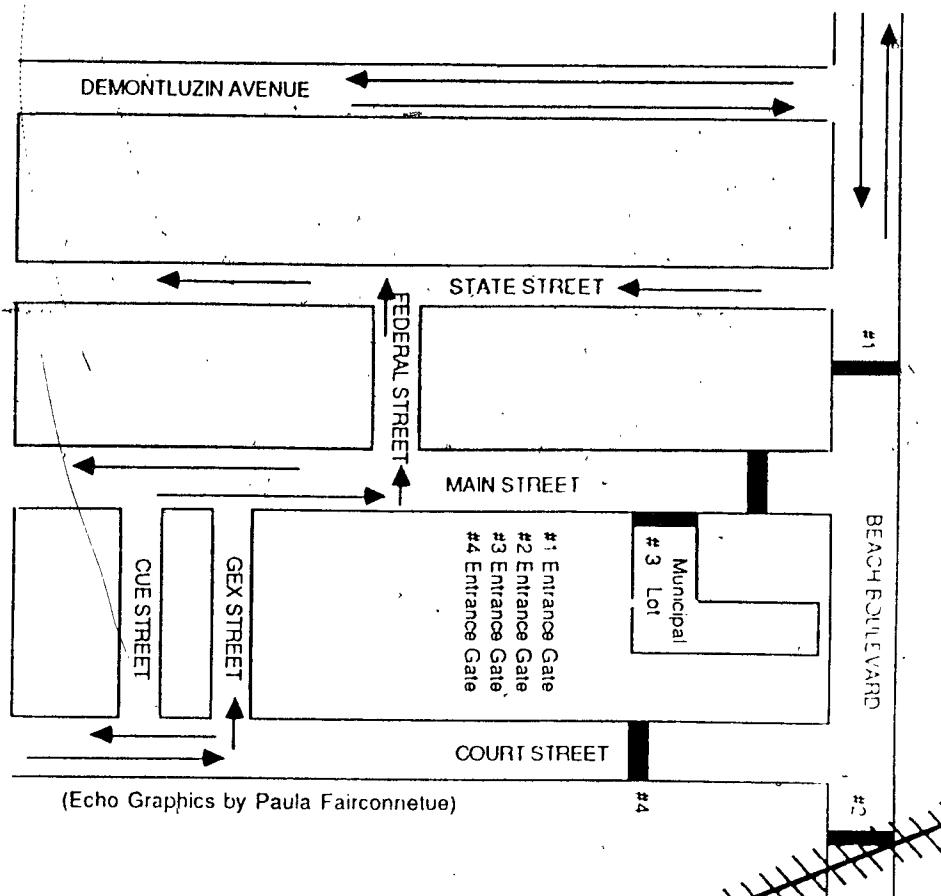

• Main Street between Federal Street to Beach Boulevard. Traffic from First Baptist Church and the Main Street Methodist churches should use Federal Street to leave the area after services.

• Court Street between the entrance of the Hancock County Sheriff's Office and Beach Boulevard. Gex and Cue streets will remain open, but will be one-way from Court to Main streets.

The parking lots serving churches in the area (Our Lady of the Gulf, First Baptist and Main Street Methodist) are private, and are needed by those congregations. Services for these churches will overlap the hours of the festival and cooperation will be most appreciated, according to a spokesman for Bay St. Louis City Hall.

Food and beverages will be sold at the festival and participants are discouraged from bringing ice chests, but those who do bring refreshments are reminded that all glass containers are prohibited. Also, bicycles and animals are not allowed among the spectators.

The city requests the public's cooperation in observing these rules to promote a successful festival for our residents and visitors alike.

Deadline to vote absentee is noon on Saturday

Deadline to vote absentee in the June 6 general election is noon Saturday, when Bay St. Louis City Hall will be open from 8 a.m. until noon. Mail-in ballots must be received by 5 p.m. Monday.

Mississippians can vote absentee if they will be out of town on business or at school, hospitalized more than 50 miles away, members of the military or a military dependent.

Voters who are 65 years of age or older, and those who are sick of physically unable to go to the polls also are allowed to vote absentee.

Average shelter stay is less than 15 hours, but during Camille some people could not leave for approximately a week, she said.

Those who intend to use shelters should tell their relatives which shelter they will use, Garcia suggests.

"The last hurricane, we had calls from all over wanting to know about their relatives," she said.

Crawfish

She would like to see a board similar to Louisiana's.

Holston has gone into the softshell crawfish business himself with Leonard Stanford. They and Randal Slade, another Pearl River County producer who attended the meeting, want a processing plant in Mississippi.

Simpson said one of the reasons Mississippi farmers, both agricultural and aquacultural, have difficulty succeeding is the current need to send products outside Mississippi for processing.

Also, Shirley said, restaurateurs do not want to have to clean these crawfish and most possible markets are therefore closed to the fresh product.

Simpson wants to see a centralized effort to promote all Mississippi products, although he praised the individual groups which have done so.

He said he also wants to see a viable alternative offered to Mississippi's farmers, particularly the smaller family farms which are going out of business by the thousands each year.

State Senator Margaret "Wootsie" Tate believes Mississippi has the ideal conditions for emerging aquaculture industries and can bring in the technology, but will not achieve progress in that area until marketing and processing can be provided.

She also criticized the state for lack of financial assistance for people who want to get into aquaculture.

Simpson also said softshell crawfish, being raised in a controlled, pollution-free environment, can appeal to a public increasingly concerned about tainted food.

"Taste, quality and where it came from are second, third and fourth on the consumer's mind," he said.

"Is it environmentally acceptable and is it clean are

The First Baptist Church and Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis have been Main Street neighbors for many years.

Members and pastors of the respective denominations have also been good friends.

The two churches will be sharing spiritual messages each week on the respective bulletin boards.

I will be looking forward to seeing the messages in the coming weeks.

Sunday will be the day of the tenth annual Beachfront Festival in Bay St. Louis from noon until dusk.

Brad Dye beginning early with fund-raising dinner

Local Gov. Brad Dye, apparently already looking ahead to his next reelection in 1990, is starting early to build up his campaign war chest.

Dye is a $100 per person donation and ticket holder for next Tuesday night at the Rimada Coliseum. If you can't make it in person, the invitation says, you can just send $10 instead to the Brad Dye Campaign, P.O. Box 100, Jackson, MS 39201.

Local officials are quick to point out that Dye has not yet announced his campaign committee chairman or campaign treasurer.

Local officials are quick to point out that Dye has not yet announced his campaign committee chairman or campaign treasurer.

Somehow, Dye's 1987 campaign finance reports filed with the secretary of state's office don't really reflect the money he raised. Possibly that's because it's optional to report contributions of $500 or less.

His report showed he spent $257,155 in that campaign, but he had only $130,570.61 in reported contributions.

For the upcoming $100 per person fundraiser, a number of the members of the Senate have been asked to be responsible for selling 10 tickets in their home area.

Veteran Sen. Ollie Mohamed of Belzoni, once a Dye ally, said he was not among those asked to sell 10 tickets. "They didn't ask me. You see, in the Senate there are lieutenants, sergeants, privates and the lancers. I'm just one of the lancers," he said.

Mohamed as chairman of the Senate County Affairs Committee, had become incensed with Dye during the August, 1988 special session on the county unit bill when Dye switched the game plan on considering Mohamed's counter-measure.

Local officials who got information on the efficient, one-time state government office would be formidable obstacles to Dye, who would be going for a unprecedented fourth term. More than Dye is vulnerable to the symbol of the "old

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader commends HMC emergency treatment staff

Dear Editor:

Recently I had to take my son to the emergency room at Hancock Medical Center for treatment of a broken hand. This was my first experience at this hospital and I truly didn't know what to expect. I had been to other emergency rooms along the Coast and more than once had come away disappointed.

My experience at HMC was both surprising and impressive. From admission personnel, to x-ray and E.R. personnel we were always treated in a courteous and professional manner. I would particularly like to mention nurse Mary Harris who truly impressed me as a kind and caring lady.

During our visit to E.R. things were extremely busy; yet we were always treated promptly and courteously and for this and all the above mentioned I would like to extend my sincere appreciation. Keep up the good work!

Reader objects to principle not price of beachfront fest

Dear Editor:

Of all the letters and excuses, I have yet to hear a valid reason for roping off parts of the area and charging money.

It is not the $2, it could be 2 cents. It is the principle!

Beachfront Festival was meant to have people to see and enjoy our area, not to be roped in and see only a small section of town. I think it's a crying shame.

Reader feels education reform puts emphasis in wrong areas

Dear Editor:

Here it is, seven years after the first education reform act, and according to Governor Mabus we still have the same problems of "too many dropouts, too much adult illiteracy, lowest ACT scores, unsafe buses, etc., etc." This is in spite of all the extra money we have spent on education.

Now we are asked to repeat the process. What assurance do we have that the results of another education reform act will not be a repeat of the first?

Reforming the structure of education further will not address the basic problem of how best to impart knowledge to our students and train their minds, which is supposed to be the function of schools. This evidently is our weak point. More money, equipment, administration and buses do not educate. The emphasis has been in the wrong area.

Also we are told by the governor's education expert that "Mississippi has the lowest computer-to-student ratio in the country." Good! Their use should be limited to juniors and seniors in high school. They are just playthings to younger children.

Regardless of how much pressure is put on us, we should say no to further tinkering with our school system to enhance the governor's image.

Sincerely,
Helen C. Matthews (Mrs.)

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

Keeping Mississippians at home is pressing problem

Graduation time always reminds us in Mississippi of one of the state's pressing problems—the need to keep our best and brightest students at home. We are still losing too many to other states.

The Mississippi Economic Council is presently involved with the College of Business at Mississippi State University in a joint effort to find a way to keep more Mississippi graduates at home. Obviously, both business and government must be involved in such an effort.

The need for keeping our best and brightest students at home came sharply into focus a few days ago in reviewing information from one of our economic development competitors.

The state of South Carolina competes on a daily basis with Mississippi in the campaign to bring more jobs and more businesses into the state. South Carolina, in fact, may be one of our toughest competitors.

An interesting note about South Carolina—both its state economic development department and its state chamber of commerce are headed by Mississippians.

We could use their help here at home.

Life behind the 'Green Curtain' hazy but for trees

My favorite color is green—the shade of trees.

Bobbing offshore from Waveland recently (trying to sail without a breeze), away from the Memorial Day raucous ashore, a few prodigal brain cells crossed paths in my head and a few connections were made.

Like an astronaut looking back at Planet Home, from out there, I could see the coastline in its entirety, tapering away left and right, double-tailed serpentlike. And, yes, it was mostly green.

Muscle-bound oaks, like permanently posed he-men; magnolias, like old drag queens trying to disguise their masculinity behind a show of flowers; innumerable pines beside whose impeccably correct posture the most well-finished beauties appear to suffer curvature of the spine—the greens of these and other trees were all impressionistically fused into a continuous, cool green curtain draped behind the shore.

Though threadbare and stained where houses showed and roads ripped through, the green curtain appeared intact.

I thought of the times I'd flown over the Coast—a patchwork of green spaces could be seen stretching inland—and remembered a quote from Hemingway's mentor, the writer Gertrude Stein. "There is more where nobody is than where anybody is. That's what makes America what it is." How lucky we are, I thought.

Several brain cells had yet to blunder home.

My favorite color is blue—sky and true.

Tapering from sight, east and west, the coastline disappeared into a pallid haze, roughly the cast of a dead man's skin. Beyond the curtain, a plume of smoke was rising like a charmed cobra rearing its head skyward.

Other brain cells began following the lead.

Days before, I was nearly run off the road by a logging truck top-heavy with the bodies of once mannerly pines. It might have seemed unexceptional, except I wasn't in the countryside—I was in downtown Waveland.

"What does this have to do with anything?" you might ask.

I will interject a question of my own at this point, "What do Waveland and Bay St. Louis have to do with the future of the world?"

The phenomena known as the Greenhouse Effect has raised so much concern it has become a household word on a global scale—with good cause. If the global warming trend continues, we could be baked in our own foul juices.

The Greenhouse Effect is caused by an increase in the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere and a decreased capacity of plants to remove it.

Fires and the burning of fossil fuels, as symptomized by the pallid haze, produce carbon dioxide. The removal of trees decreases the amount removed from the atmosphere. So, inspite of the thickening haze, it isn't hard to see the problem.

What of Waveland and Bay St. Louis? Neither has a tree ordinance. They both need one desperately, to preserve the aesthetics of the community, but also to do their part for life on Earth.

Another positive action would be for the community to embrace a comprehensive recycling program. It saves trees and energy (where there's electricity, smoke can't be far behind).

Gertrude Stein also is credited with labeling the group of young writers and artist gathered in Paris after World War One, "The Lost Generation".

If we don't take appropriate action fast, if anyone is left, we may be remembered merely for generating a loss.

BACK TO NATURE

By LYDIA SCHULTZ

Friday, May 26 I was confronted with a situation that must be shared with every person who is concerned with our wildlife. Although there have been numerous articles about such matters, the word is not spreading fast enough; the influx of birds and wildlife to the Wildlife Rehabilitation Center in Pass Christian is proof that each of us can do more.

Late Friday, I was asked for information on how to hand-raise two baby 'Sparrow Hawks.'

Immediately, my antennae went up. Kestrels, commonly called Sparrow Hawks, are rare as nesting birds here. I suspected, with a sinking feeling in the pit of my stomach, that the 'Sparrow Hawks' were really Common Nighthawk chicks. They had been found in an open field at a construction site and taken for 'safe keeping.'

Looking back, I have to laugh. I see myself now as a cartoon character who badgers people with a verbal stick.

Common Nighthawks are nocturnal insect-eating birds. They winter in South America, migrate to the U.S., nest on the ground, and are in the same family as the Whip-poor-will and the Chuck-will's-widow.

My first experience with this bird lead to my fascination. While on one of my very first birding treks through a wooded area, a friend and I flushed one from the ground close by. It flew to a limb above us. The camouflage it wears makes all our high-tech camouflage gear pale by comparison. You could barely see this bird on the limb. It hugs the limb closely. When it flies, it does so silently and effortlessly. The white stripes in its wings are the give-away for identification.

It is extremely difficult for a 'real human person' to raise these birds as well as the parent bird can. We are darned poor substitutes. Sure, we have come a long way in knowing how to care for young birds, but we are still second-best.

Last, but not at all least, it is against the law to tamper with migratory birds. The laws are very specific, dating back to the early 1900's to consistent updates between the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Our laws are clear: to have in one's possession any migratory bird, or to harass, shoot, harm or tamper with their nests, is a violation of Federal Laws. No ifs, ands or buts. Precise enough?

Certainly we do not want to stop progress. Simply taking a shovel, lifting the chicks and part of the surrounding earth, and moving it several feet, would have allowed construction to continue and left the adult bird with her nest and young intact.

The nesting cycle of birds is determined by the hormones of their bodies and removing the young from a bird, regardless of our reasons, is cruel.

Once I became the surrogate to the two very tiny chicks, the rest of the afternoon was a blur of trying to feed them and trying to find an adult bird soaring and searching for her young. No luck. Constant contact with the Rehab Center found one of their volunteers, Mary Jane Wolfe, who know exactly how to raise baby Nighthawks. It will not be easy. It is tedious, time consuming, and demands a full commitment.

Humans make very poor facsimiles of 'mother bird' in caring for chicks

In talking to the people at the Wildlife Center Friday, I could sense many feelings: disbelief of the situation, sorrow for the adult birds who were robbed of their young after a large investment, tiredness from being overworked this time of year with so many immature birds, and a determination to continue.

They need volunteers, time, supplies, and most of all money. (Many of the birds and animals require expensive food and medications.) The jobs they do are those tasks that can be so very rewarding yet heart-wrenching at the same time. They have picked up birds left with me from time to time, and I know the outlook is bleak. Yet I am spared the actual outcome. They deal with dead animals daily and yet keep going. I suppose the possibility of seeing two Common Nighthawks, released at dusk, soaring, bull-battling and doing what they are meant to do is a dream to keep Mary Jane and those like her at the Rehab Center going.

So if you see young birds or young animals abandoned, in distress, yes, go ahead, lend a helping hand. Move them away from harm's way. But always try to leave them with the adult birds if possible. We make poor facsimiles.

If you have questions, call 452-WILD or 467-BIRD. If you find injured animals, place them in cardboard boxes (not cages) and keep quiet. Offer small amounts of water in shallow dishes, but make sure you find out what to feed before you try to force feed them.

Thought for this month: We share this earth; we don't own it.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1989-1B

SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

June 4-10 is National Safe Boating Week. While we are more aware of things during specifically designated times such as this, please don't forget safety precautions at any time and remember that life jackets aren't called "life" for nothing.

Also, the National Safe Boating Council has stated that more than half of last year's over 1,000 boating fatalities resulted from the same cause as many automobiles fatalities—drinking and driving. Now, that's a sobering thought!

I have been working in this field since January 1982 and, working primarily as a news writer, have written many accident accounts. Some involved boats.

In more than seven years, I have yet to write about a recreational boating accident that didn't involve alcohol, with the exception of one situation where a motor caught fire.

Hancock County Recreation Association is sponsoring summer league basketball in three divisions, boys and girls 14 and under, boys and girls 17 and under and men 18 and over.

Anyone interested in entering a team or playing may call Calvin Smith, (504) 589-6406 days or 467-0470 evenings, or add his name to the sign-in sheet in the lobby of the Valena C. Jones Gymnasium.

League play is scheduled to start the second week in June, so hurry!

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will provide sailing lessons this summer, with the first session June 5-June 30 and the second session July 3-July 28.

Classes will be provided for children age eight or older and adults on club-owned Flying Scots. Fees are $60 per person for members and $70 for non-members.

For more information, contact Walter Chamberlain at 467-7414.

There have been schedule changes in the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp Time Out announced two weeks ago.

Dr. Sharon H. Walker, coordinator of educational programs for the research lab, said extra classes are now available June 19-23 for children ages six-eight and July 10-14 for nine and 10 year olds. The Aug. 21-25 session is changed to Aug. 14-19.

She said additions were made because so many kids ended up on waiting lists. More information is available at 374-5550.

It's the first time I've heard of a summer camp featuring golf, but University of Mississippi is offering two sessions, June 11-15 and June 18-22, for boys and girls from 10 through 1990 high school seniors.

Camps are limited to 40 golfers, who will be instructed by Ole Miss Golf Coach Larry Slone, selected college golfers and PGA professionals. Registration fee is $300 for resident campers. More information is available from the Ole Miss Center for Public Service and Continuing Studies at 232-7282.

Ole Miss also offers two sessions of a basketball camp for girls 10 through high school seniors June 11-15 and June 25-29.

Ole Miss Lady Rebels Coach Van Chancellor and his assistants will be instructors, along with Olympic Gold Medalist Jennifer Gillom.

The fee for overnight campers is $190, but team rates are available. Call 232-7282.

University of Southern Mississippi has a soccer camp coming up June 18-23, which will emphasize the basic fundamentals of the game.

Information is available from the USM Division of Lifelong Learning at 266-4201.

There's also a USM tennis camp, with two sessions available: June 19-23 and July 24-28.

The full-time camp fee is $160 and players 10 through entering high school seniors may participate. Chief instructor will be USM head tennis coach Teddy Viator, a former Louisiana State University coach.

The number for the tennis camp is 266-4190.

Basketball coaches may want to take advantage of another USM-sponsored event, a seminar June 19-23 featuring J. Larry Ladner. Coach Ladner, by the way, lives in Kiln when he isn't working in Hattiesburg.

The official name of the course is CSA 672, Special Athletic Problems: Basketball and it can be taken for graduate or undergraduate credit. Grad students will have until July 7 to complete an outside project. Call 266-4190 for details.

Local softball players still have time to enter the Beachcomber invitational, an ASA sanctioned tournament, June 2, 3 and 4.

The men's class B-C competition is limited to 25 teams and the women's division is limited to 12. Registration is $85 for men and $75 for women.

Call Jimmy McGrew, 452-9897; Mary Kelly, 452-9006; or Jimmy Roberds, 863-3702.

Coke United wins Under-14 title

The Coke United Under-14 soccer team has won the state competition in Jackson.

Local team members are Scott Emmel, Shawn Keener, Scott Pepperman, Beau Schindler and Richard Watson. Coke

United will represent Mississippi at the Southern Regional Tournament in Tulsa, Okla. June 13-18.

On Saturday morning, Coke

United defeated Northeast Jackson Thunder by a score of 2-1. This game was the championship game as Thunder was runner-up in the tournament.

Coke United defeated Vic ksburg Cannon, 4-0, in their second game. Sunday morning matched Coke United and Northeast Jackson-Spirit Coke United won by a score of 5-0.

The final match of the tournament was between Coke United and Tupelo Titans. Tupelo was defeated by a score of 4-3.

Other team members of Coke United are Damien Bruni, Stuart Carothers, Bryce Phillips, John Sterling, Jason Long, Chris Lewis, Donald Fairley, Scott Wilson, Trey Sutton and Ray Sinopli.

Coach Larry Lewis said that the entire team was to be complimented on the effort the team put forth in order to win the state tournament. Entering the state tournament as the number-three team and ending the tournament as the state champions was the result of hard work and good team play.

Coke United is in the process of raising funds to charter a bus for the regional tournament in Tulsa, Okla.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to this team which will represent Mississippi should send a check to SMSC Coke United, c/o Larry Lewis, 216 Boggs Circle, Long Beach, MS 39560 or contact Lewis at 863-1719 or Roselin Watson at 467-5613.

Four BWYC sailors compete in Memorial weekend regatta

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Four local Optimist sailors competed in the qualifying regatta for the European Championships over the Memorial Day weekend in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mallory Mestayer, 13-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Mestayer of Bay St. Louis, finished fourth overall in the female division of the competition, which included sailors ages 9-16.

Eleven-year-old Sanders Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kane of Bay St. Louis, finished 35th overall.

The top five slots were taken by members of the 1988 World Cup Team.

Optimist competition will continue through the summer with the Long Island Sound Championships in Stamford, Conn. July 29-30; the U.S. Optimist Dinghy Association National Championship in Newport, R.I. July 31-August 5, and International Optimist Dinghy Association North American Championship in Marblehead, Mass. August 6-10.

The two latter events are qualifying regattas for the United States 1989 World Team.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club junior sailors have been coached by Rod Stieffel of Bay St. Louis.

Shrimp season to open June 5

At 6 a.m. on June 5, for the first time in recent history, shrimp season in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama will open at the same time.

The state Commission on Wildlife Conservation voted to open the season at 6 a.m. on June 5 based on the recommendation of state Bureau of Marine Resources fisheries division staff.

"We recommended that the opening of the season coincide with the openings in Louisiana and Alabama, because we think it will ease the fishing pressure in the waters of all three states," said Scott Gordon, BMR acting fisheries chief.

"A simultaneous opening will disburse the fishermen along the Coast so that they're not concentrated in any one state's waters," Gordon added.

The law requires that the Mississippi shrimp season must open no later than the first Wednesday in June if the average shrimp size reaches 68 shrimp per pound.

Gordon said that staff biologists project that shrimp will reach the minimum legal size by June 3.

Since May 1, BMR biologists have been monitoring the growth of shrimp by making sample trawls at nine locations throughout the Mississippi Sound. Biologists made the sample trawls once every four days.

By law, shrimp season in Mississippi closes at midnight on Dec. 31.

An area north of a line from the shoreline due east of Beacon 14 in the Biloxi Bay Channel and due west to Beacon 14 in Biloxi Bay Channel to the southernmost point of Deer Island will be closed to shrimp-

Local sailors picked for intercollegiate national regatta

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two sailors from local yacht clubs will represent Spring Hill College at Mihale, Ala., Friday and Saturday in the Intercollegiate National Sailing Championship Regatta.

Eric Doyle of Bay St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.V. Murphy, is a member of the Bay Wreck and Yacht Club and has just completed his first year at Spring Hill.

Eric and Page are the two sailors representing the Southwest Intercollegiate Sailing Association, according to Ductus Murphy of Bay St. Louis. The national competition includes two teams from each of the eight regional associations and will be sailed on Lake Michigan.

They are sure Spring Hill is certain to be in the national competition coming in second to the University, which is taking it nationally in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Sailing Association District Cup, workshop April 29 on White Rock Lake in Dallas, Texas.

Eric and Page also represent the southeastern association.

Rocks finish baseball season second in district

The SSC baseball team finished its season with a 10-7-2 record; with a 7-3 district worksheet.

This record tied the Rock-A-Chaws for second place with George County. In a playoff game played on Saturday, May 1, George County defeated the Rocks 2-1 at D'Iberville's stadium.

Cedric Smith pitched the entire game for the Rocks, scattering five hits and allowing only one earned run. Ricky Taylor and Bubba Dixon combined for the win on the mound for George County, allowing six hits against them.

The Rocks trailed 2-1 going into the last inning, and Cedric Smith and Scott Heitzmann both reached base safely, as Smith led off the inning with a walk, followed by Scott Heitzmann's single.

Both Rock-A-Chaw runners advanced to second and third, and with no one out, the Rocks had their 4th, 5th, and 6th place hitters up to bat.

But participating in the South State playoffs was not meant to be for St. Stanislaus, as Marc Matherne, Tom Zant, and Lloyd Nicaud all struck out to end the ballgame.

"Yes, it was a tough way to end what I considered to be a good season," said Coach Gemelli. "We certainly had our opportunity to win the game, although George County really wanted to win badly."

"All in all, we had a good year, but not the year that our ballclub wanted us to have. When we needed to dig down deep to get that extra base hit to support our excellent pitching, we couldn't seem to produce. I am excited about the fact that Cedric Smith and Greg Schruff are both returning next season, and if they have the kind of season they are capable of having, we will win our district."

Schruff finished with four wins and a 1.63 ERA, while Smith also had four wins and a 2.21 ERA. Other fine performances were turned in by sophomore Kevin Jacobi at third base, and freshman Mick Quinlan in the outfield.

Rock-A-Chaw track team takes second district title

Coach Larry Ramsey successfully coached his troops to a second consecutive District 4A title, soundly defeating the other five teams in the district.

Several Rock-A-Chaws had outstanding seasons, as senior Jeff Battle was crowned the state champion in the discus last week with a toss of 137'8".

Another district champion, Johnny LaBrazzo, finished second in the state in the pole vault, with best vault of 11'4".

Brian Brooks was named the 'Most Outstanding Runner' in two individual meets this year and was the District 4A champ for the second consecutive year in the 1,600 and 3,200 meter run.

Brooks finished fourth overall in the state meet, also participating in the 800 meter run and 1,600 meter relay. Brooks is a sophomore, and Coach Ramsey expects great things from him.

Leading the team in the relays were Gino Ascani, Sean Sewell, Paul Johnson, Ken Booker and Craig Sweeney. Sweeney was the 800 meter district champion this season breaking his own district record of 2:08.

Sweeney also is an excellent javelin-thrower with a personal best of 194', although the javelin is not thrown in competition in Mississippi. Sweeney was the South State Champion in the 800 meter run and finished fourth in the state in 1988. He also threw the shot put and discus for the Rock-A-Chaws.

Paul Johnson won the high jump in the district and also ran on some relay teams in addition to the 400 meter dash. Chris Reisch returned to competition after recuperating from a broken collar bone to become the district champion in the 400 meter dash. Reisch was last year's 200 meter dash champion in the district.

Galen Smith finished third in the district in the triple jump. He also high jumped, threw the javelin and long jumped.

"We stressed to the kids to give us their very best in each event, and not to hold back on anything," said Coach Larry Ramsey.

"We felt like if every kid gave us his best, overall finish in the meet would take care of itself. We were like one big machine, and each event was like a part."

Assisting Coach Ramsey was Coach Kivlan, who coached the distance runners and worked with the field events. Ramsey coached the sprinters and worked with field event personnel.

SSC tennis team produces District 4A title holder

The 1989 St. Stanislaus varsity tennis team finished with a 9-5 record under the guidance of head coach Myron Labat. Coach Labat guided the previous two teams to 10-1 and 10-2 records, but this season's five losses should not be viewed as a disappointment.

Coach Labat scheduled one of the toughest schedules imaginable, as four of those losses came at the hands of 5A opponents, such as powerhouses Gulfport and Hattiesburg. St. Stanislaus is a 4A school, and playing such talented schools sharpened SSC's young tennis troops for district competition.

"It was a growing up for this year's young team," Stated Coach Labat. "We used three juniors, two sophomores and an eighth grader in varsity competition. Although there were no 'superstars' on this year's squad, the fact that six players were shuffled in and out of four positions speaks favorably for the team balance," concluded Coach Labat.

Since this year's team will graduate no seniors, the Rocks are optimistic about next year's 1990 season.

This year's consistent performers were rewarded at the annual SSC Spring Sports Banquet.

Mil Cromwell played hard-nosed tennis all season in the number one singles position. He won the Boys District VIII 4A Singles title and made an excellent semi-final showing at the State High School Tournament in Jackson. Cromwell was awarded the Captain's Award for his efforts and accomplishment.

Myron Labat Jr. and Robert Schutt played consistent tennis throughout the season in the Boys Doubles position. They turned in an impressive 6-2, 6-2 victory during the regular season over the eventual state champion, Laurel. For their efforts, Labat and Schutt were awarded the Coaches Award and the "Mr. Rock-A-Chaw" Award, respectively.

"With a little luck, this could have been our year to win the State Championships in both the Boys Singles and Boys Doubles, but with six lettermen returning to next year's squad, we hope to be more in control of our destiny in 1990," said Coach Labat.

National Safe Boating Week is June 4-10

Gulf Islands National Seashore would like to remind everyone that June 4-10 is National Safe Boating Week, Superintendent Jerry Eubanks announced.

Since 1958, when Safe Boating Week was first started by an Act of Congress and Presidential proclamation, the number of recreational boats has grown from 5 million to 17 million nationwide. Nearly 70 million Americans will go boating in 1989.

Recreational boating is fun, but more than 1,000 people lose their lives every year in boating accidents. The number of boating fatalities exceeds the number of fatalities in air accidents, commercial shipping accidents and rail accidents each year (National Transportation figures).

Most boating accidents are the result of a capsizing, fall overboard or collision in a small boat in inland waters. "A large number of visitors to the National Seashore are recreational boaters," said Eubanks. "We want to emphasize the need for practicing safe boating skills," he added.

Boaters face some natural risks when they go boating—wind, weather and navigational hazards, but the biggest hazard is one boaters can control—drinking while boating.

The National Safe Boating Council reports that alcohol contributed to more than half of last year's boating fatalities and urges boaters to keep the hand that controls the throttle off the bottle.

Last year more than 1,000 persons drowned in boating accidents. Most of the accidents were near shore or just a few feet from a boat. A life jacket could save a boater's life if they wear it. The National Safe Boating Council and Gulf Islands National Seashore remind boaters that life jackets are a friend for life.

Out on the water a storm can be more than an inconvenience; it can capsize a boat and threaten lives. The National Safe Boating Council has this special weather warning for boaters: check the forecasts before leaving shore and, if it is safe to venture out, keep the radio on and watch the sky for signs of storms over the horizon.

Boaters are also urged to file a float plan—a simple description of your boat, where you are planning to go and when you expect to return. The plan should be left with the marina where you launch from, a friend or neighbor.

If you do not return as planned, searchers will know where to look. The capacity plate on a boat tells how many persons can be carried in good weather. The National Safe Boating Council urges boaters to remember that the number of seats in a boat is not a measure of capacity—the capacity plate is.

Whatever you do on the water—fishing, hunting, cruising, picnicking, water skiing or just running about—know before you go. Boaters will enjoy the water more if they are confident in what they are doing and they will be safer too.

Pearl River Community College has released its 1989 football schedule which head coach Mike Nelson feels is a good one.

Nelson said that while the Wildcats must play tough South Division foes Jones and Gulf Coast back-to-back, the squad will play three of its stiffest league opponents—Hinds, Gulf Coast and Copiah-Lincoln—at home.

Nelson added that the Wildcats have had a good recruiting year in preparation for the season, especially at running back and defensive linemen.

Fishermen asked to report tagged fish

Saltwater fishermen who catch tagged cobia (lemonfish) need to contact the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs.

"Cobia are being tagged and released in the northern Gulf of Mexico by laboratory personnel and by sportfishermen in order to better understand the growth and migration patterns of this important species," said Jim Franks, Cobia Research Project leader.

"It would be very helpful to our research if anyone catching a tagged cobia would contact the laboratory at (601) 872-4202 (if long distance call collect) to let us know when and where the fish was caught, the length of the fish, and the tag number. We would actually like to receive the tags from any tagged cobia caught," Franks said.

IMAGINING AMERICA

"American Playhouse" will present a compilation of four short films about life in the USA. "Imagining America" airs at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 7 on Mississippi ETV.

The special program offers a look at the creators of these films: "The Brink Patch," a story of a quilt becoming part of New York City's South Bronx; "The Last Supper," a look at U.S. veteran animator Ralph Bakshi that is a "past and present" time capsule about America.

"Nationalism and Tribalism in America" uses poetic images to relate the rituals often hidden in American Society; and "Get Your Kicks on Route 66" is a film about the famous highway, the song and the television show, often as icons of Americana.

CONSUMER UPDATE

The cost of a college education

By Janet K. Lukens
Area Consumer Management Specialist

With tuition ranging from $1,000 to $12,000 for 3,000 colleges and universities, providing your child with a college education will probably be one of the first financial goals you ever attempt.

However, according to the U.S. Dept. of Education statistics, it may be easier to send your child to college.

According to the Money Management Manual, individuals with a Bachelor's degree earn $1,540 more annually on the average than $892 more than the $484 earned by high school graduates.

This is three times as much as $415 a month averaged by college dropouts. People with vocational degrees earn $990 and those with associate degrees $1,188. Professional degree holders average earnings of $3,439 monthly.

For parents of young children looking ahead to future college expenses, below is the estimated cost of a year degree program. If your child is now 12 years old, the cost of a college education for your child is 1 year old. Cost for a private college are even higher—currently averaging approximately double those of public colleges. You can expect to pay as much as:

$100,000—by the time your 10-year-old goes to college.

$147,000—by the time your 5-year-old reaches college age.

$240,000—if you plan to send your 1-year-old.

The level of these projected college costs should motivate parents to begin saving immediately for future college expenses.

To begin a savings plan, you may wish to consult your banker, financial planner, stockbroker, Area Consumer Management Specialist, or even the prospective university about savings plans available.

Look into alternatives including U.S. Savings Bonds, Certificates of Deposit, Zero-coupon bonds, and stock mutual funds as well as other possibilities mentioned by your financial advisor.

Also consult your tax advisor regarding putting some or all of these funds in your child's name to reduce taxes as you build these savings. Most importantly, start saving now for your child's future.

Crow competes for journalism scholarship

St. Stanislaus High School students are invited to enter the annual journalism competition at the school and compete for the Pilot Pen of St. Louis scholarship.

The one-year scholarship is open to seniors from the University of the Americas, St. Louis, sponsored by the Pilot Pen of St. Louis, a supplier of writing instruments based in St. Louis, and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Students are invited to an information conference on June 10 to learn to write a newspaper story covering a local event. The local winner's story will be judged by the contest administrators, who will select a winner from each of the 50 states.

Each state winner, along with a chaperone, will be flown to Washington, D.C. for a day-long news reporting competition at the National Press Club on Oct. 31. The contest will be held around a simulated fast-breaking international news situation with a series of press briefings and news bulletins. The students will write their news stories under deadline pressure.

A panel of distinguished print and broadcast journalists will judge the news stories and select the grand winner of the full scholarship. The four runners up will receive $2,500 cash prizes.

"No chrome, no glass and no hopes of having any."

Here we are celebrating half a century in business and we're still asked the same question, "Why do the Dollar General Stores look the way they do?" In this day of super stores and hypermarkets in expensive shopping plazas, that's a very legitimate question.

The answer is, that was the plan 50 years ago and it still stands. At Dollar General we never have thought you ought to help us pay a big overhead. We got started back in 1939 in Scottsville, Kentucky, serving folks in Appalachia who really needed a bargain and knew how to appreciate one too. Compared to the big boys our stores are kind of old fashioned looking. Matter of fact you might just go ahead and call 'em plain. Extremely so. We got no chrome, no glass and no hopes of having any.

And that's why you're still able to find prices that have been bringing other stores to their knees since 1939.

A lot of operations have tried to imitate us, but nobody's ever been able to beat us overall on price.

Even the best know when to call in the Relief Pitcher.™
